My sentra is a 2005 limited edition model, 1.8s. Today I tried to put gas in and I unscrewed the gas cap to a whoosing sound and then when I tried to put gas in, it came back out at me. I was finally able to get the gas in if I pressed very hard and only did a little at a time as the gas handle would give as if it were full of gas.

Pretty good car. I purchased my 2005 Nissan Sentra S (the basic model; no cruise control, manual transmission, and manual window/locks) in 2013 with 65,000 miles. It is now 2016 and I am at 140,000 miles. I just recently took this car on a 600 mile road trip and managed to get 34 miles to the gallon on the interstate.
